PEMBROKE SALOONISTS WANTS $50,000

Asks Balm For Wounded Pride and Injured Reputation In Closing Order.

A copy of the petition in federal court at Paducah by J. T. Ragsdale against R. E. Cooper, J. M. Neblett, T. J. McReynolds, James West, W. T. Dougherty, G. L. Campbell, C. M. Merriweather, Ned Turner, E. Williams, S. A. Powell, D. D. Cayce, Geo. W. Crenshaw, L. O. Brumfield, Richard Leavell, Ed Jones, O. D. Boxley, Dr. J. L. Barker, W. H. Jones, Douglas Graham, G. H. Champlin, Robt. Y. Pendleton, Sam T. Fruit, James J. Cliborne and G. B. Powell which is the outgrowth of the saloon troubles at Pembroke, has been received here, giving the first full details of this action which has aroused so much interest here.

It was rumored that Mr. Ragsdale would plead damages for business lost when his saloon closed, but he says he was merely working on a salary as manager for Ragsdale & Bush, which firm was composed of C. R. Ragsdale and F. W. Bush. He asks for damages of $50,000 which he claims to have sustained as the result of the trial held here in April which ended in another compromise being made whereby the three saloonkeepers at Pembroke paid $2,000 and agreed to close their places, which they did.

Mr. Ragsdale says "by virtue of said false and malicious prosecution of him, instigated, promulgated and consummated by the defendants and each of them, as has heretofore been full set out, this plaintiff was humiliated, held up to scorn and ridicule and contumely before the people of Christian county, and Kentucky, all of which was done illegally and wrongfully and maliciously by said defendants to the damage of this plaintiff in the further sum of $50,000."

In addition to this Mr. Ragsdale prays for the return of $395.00 which he says was the amount he paid as per the compromise settlement made here in the April trial, and $100 additional which he said he had to pay out for attorney's fee.

He claims that he held license from the town of Pembroke, state and county and government which permitted him to run until July, 1919, and he declares that there was no legal right for ever concealing these, as was done under the compromise made last fall by which the prohibition election was called off and the saloons of the county agreed to close on April 1, 1919.

He sets up the facts regarding the calling of this prohibition election last year and says that "an order pursuant to said petition and application made therein was duly, regularly and properly made by the county judge, calling said election for the 4th day of October, 1919."

Mocquot, Berry & Reed, of Paducah, are attorneys for the plaintiff. As yet the defendants have not retained counsel, but they are considering this now, and will put up a vigorous defense. The case is set for hearing at Paducah on Monday, November 17.
